

Loss of own documents

We agree that the following additional insuring clause shall apply:

We will indemnify You up to £100,000 in the aggregate during the Period of Insurance for reasonable and necessary costs incurred with Our prior written consent incurred in the replacing or restoring of Documents following loss or damage first discovered during the Period of Insurance.

For the purposes of this insuring clause and no other the Excess shall be £1,000.

DEFINITIONS

In this endorsement where the following word appears in bold type it shall have this meaning:

Documents shall mean the shall mean written or printed documents, drawings, plans, contracts, books or forms of any nature (excluding any bearer bonds or coupons, bank or currency notes, share certificates or other negotiable paper) and recorded information on any media for use with any computer.