

Loss of own documents

We agree that the following additional insuring clause shall apply:

We will indemnify You up to £            in the Aggregate for reasonable and necessary costs incurred with Our prior written consent in replacing or restoring Documents owned by You and which were discovered during the Period of Insurance to be damaged, lost, destroyed, mislaid or otherwise unobtainable and which, after diligent search, cannot be located.

We will not indemnify You against any claim arising directly or indirectly from Documents which are stored on magnetic or electrical media unless such Documents are duplicated on magnetic or electrical media and deposited at a separate location with the intention that in the event of loss or damage the duplicate can be used as the basis for restoring the Documents to their original status.

For the purposes of this insuring clause and no other the Excess shall be £1,000.
